SYNTHETIC DEMONSTRATION PAPER B

A second fictional training outcome pilot

This document is generated test material, not a real publication or scientific finding.

In another invented pilot, groups using method A and method B had overlapping score ranges.

The fictional data are insufficient to establish a stable difference between methods.

No preregistered replication or causal design was available in this invented record.

Limitations: small sample and uncertain measurement reliability.